

SITE SELECTED FOR POST OFFICE

Garipey and Lessard Property, at Corner of McDougall and Rice Streets, to be Purchased by Department at $20,000

The news became public on the streets this morning that C. deW. Macdonald, as agent for the post office department at Ottawa, had been authorized to complete the purchase and attend to the transfer of the Garipey & Lessard lots at the south-east corner of Rice and McDougall, for the permanent post-office site.

Mr. Garipey was seen this morning and said that to all intents and purposes the deal was closed. The titles were in the hands of his solicitors awaiting transfer.

Mr. Cogswell, of Macdonald, McKinnon & Cogswell, stated that Mr. Macdonald had been authorized by the department to close the deal.

The property in question on which the government has had an option since last November, is 90 feet on McDougall and 150 feet on Rice, and was acquired by the government at the exceedingly low price of $20,000. Previous to the present option the government had an earlier option, two years ago, on the same property, at $10,000, and later had an option on the same and some additional property at $25,000.

At the time of the last option, $10,000 were also taken on sites at the corner of Howard and Elizabeth streets, the selection being left to a vote of the ratepayers at the last municipal elections on December 11. The McDougall and Rice corner got a large plurality over the other two.

FOUND MAN'S BODY

Crime Unearthed at Snowflake, Manitoba—Victim Had Been Shot

Snowflake, Man., Apr. 4.—Lying in the woods about four miles east of town the body of a man supposed to be Vincent Weller of Mount Carmel, N. D., was found last night by T. S. Lane. The body was covered by a fur coat and an examination revealed that the man had been shot through the head and his throat cut. The identity of the man was established by papers found in his pockets which bore the name of Vincent Weller and it is known that Weller has been missing from Mount Carmel since November when he was last seen in Snowflake in company with Matthew Doyle. The discovery has created intense excitement in the district as a reward has been offered by the Attorney-General of North Dakota for the production of Weller dead or alive.

PREACHER TAKES A HAND.

London, Ont., Ap. 3.—In a sermon on Sunday, Rev. S. Hamilton at the First Congregational church dealt with the Winnipeg strike. "When I heard that the militia had been called out," he said, "I asked myself whether after all, there was much marked difference between our so-called free country way, and that in which the Cz ar of Russia conducts his country."

MAY END STRIKE

Better Outlook for Speedy Settlement of Winnipeg Trouble

Winnipeg, Ap. 4.—There were two most important developments in the street railway strike yesterday. First was the assurance given that negotiations were practically arranged whereby a settlement of the dispute would be brought about very shortly and, second a significant announcement of Dr. McInnis, M.P.P., at a labor meeting last night that he had been informed by the attorney-general that the provincial government would consider the advisability of introducing at next session a measure for the compulsory arbitration of labor disputes. The company operated its cars fairly free yesterday during the daylight and they carried more passengers than heretofore since the strike commenced. The patronage probably being due to the forbidding weather conditions. There is a marked optimism shown by all parties to the dispute indicating that the company and the men will soon be brought together.

ACCEPTED PLANS

Estimate Calls for an Expenditure of $306,000 on Sewers and Water Mains

At the city council meeting last night the most important piece of business to be transacted this year was put through in the last fifteen minutes of the meeting, after the time had been extended for the second time. It was the adoption of the plan for sewer construction and water mains that had been laid on the table by Mr. Hargreaves some three weeks ago and was then laid over.

The proposition, as adopted by the city council last night, is the same as that presented a year ago and explained fully at that time in the Bulletin. It calls for a main line concrete trunk sewer from a siphon tank to be built on Rat Creek at a point close to where the Canadian Northern crosses the creek, following the creek up to Edmonston street, where it takes Edmonston street to First Street, hence along First street southward to Churchill avenue, thence westward along Churchill avenue to Ninth street, thence south to Mackenzie.

Water mains are to be co-incident with the sewer wherever laid. From the siphon tank to First street the trunk sewer is to be 10 feet in diameter. On First and Eighth it is to be eight and on Ninth it is to be 9 feet 3 inches. Tributary to these the plan calls for sewers along Mackenzie and Jasper east and west and connecting sewers north and south along Fifth, Sixth, Seventh, Eighth, Ninth, Tenth, Eleventh, Twelfth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Fifteenth, Sixteenth, Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-fifth, Twenty-sixth, Twenty-seventh, Twenty-eighth, Twenty-ninth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-second, Thirty-third, Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth, Thirty-seventh, Thirty-eighth, Thirty-ninth, and Fortieth streets.

In the east end Clara and Kinsinga are included in the plan. Water mains are to be co-incident with the sewer wherever laid. The total cost of the plan submitted by Mr. Hargreaves is $306,000, of which $125,000 is the cost of the trunk sewer and $181,000 the cost of the tributary sewers.

As there are already many petitions in the hands of the commissioners for local improvements in other parts of the town, the commissioners were instructed that this other work should be undertaken wherever petitions complying with the local improvement ordinance have been presented, always providing that there are no intermediate gaps which make it inconsistent to make the connections asked for without first advertising the intervening sections which would consequently have to be served.

Commissioner Hargreaves stated this morning that the tenders would be advertised for within the next two weeks and that within five weeks the contract would be let. He stated that the contract would be let in all probability not be let for the whole work at once, but that it would be broken up into several sections, so that greater time could be made.

COMPROMISE WITH FIRE BRIGADE

Offer Chief Wilson Berth as Building Inspector at $100 per Month—Ald. Griesbach's Caustic Remarks

A large amount of important business was transacted at the council meeting last night.

As a way out of the fire brigade deadlock the commissioners offer to compromise with Chief Wilson by offering to retain him as building inspector at $100 a month. Ald. Griesbach offered several resolutions depreciating the compromise, which were promptly turned down by the council.

Mayor May was in the chair and the Aldermen present were Messrs. Bellamy, Smith, May, Latta, Picard and Griesbach.

After the minutes were read, Richard Secord, as spokesman for a delegation from the old exhibition association, stated that his, Mr. Morris, and Mr. Garipey were there to explain the position of the association with regard to their claim to be protected by the city against loss in the 1905 exhibition.

Mr. Morris stated that when the annual meeting occurred in March last he was in Ottawa and on his return found that the members of the association who had attended the meeting contemplated giving the exhibition up on account of the fact that it was a loss in 1904. Mr. Morris got them to hold another meeting at which it was agreed that if the city would guarantee the association against loss to the extent of $5000 they would put on a better exhibition for 1905 than ever held here before.

At the wind-up they found the exhibition to have suffered a loss of $2,500. Mr. Morris gave the expenditures by items, showing how the money was outlaid. The exhibition association, he explained, gave their grounds for nothing, and every member of the citizens' association gave their work toward the exhibition freely and cheerfully. He did not think that the city was justified in rejecting the claims of the exhibition association as had been done by the council. The city had cut down the account $1402. It was not right. He said that the committee and association who gave up their grounds and time willingly should not be required to put their hands in their pockets and pay this $1402. Outside of this cost of two turnstiles and the expense of permanent improvements, he thought that the city should meet the loss.

Ald. Picard moved that the balance of the loss be paid by the city.

Ald. Smith said that at a recent meeting of the industrial association the matter had been thoroughly thrashed out and that it was very clearly shown that the city was justly entitled to pay the amount. He therefore seconded the motion.

Ald. Bellamy said he was in favor of the motion.

The motion was put and carried.

H. C. Taylor appeared before the council on behalf of Mr. Fleming, of Windsor, Ont., asking for a resolution by the aldermen endorsing the application of himself and friends for the usual statutory bonus for a line of railway from Edmonton to Athabasca Landing.

A resolution was passed, endorsing the application, with the proviso that it should be a cash bonus and that work should be commenced in eighteen months and completed in three years. The Edmonton Exhibition Association wrote protesting against the use of their grounds and buildings for immigration purposes, lest diseased cattle or horses might be admitted and the usefulness of the grounds and buildings for exhibition purposes thereby destroyed.

Ald. Griesbach asked for the terms of the lease.

Mr. N. D. Hick said that he had prepared a lease and submitted it to Mr. Butchart late yesterday afternoon, but that he was unable to find the other or not he could accept the lease. Whether

CIVIC HALF HOLIDAY

I hereby proclaim Friday, the 4th April, between the hours of 1 and 4 of the afternoon as a civic half-day, to afford all citizens an opportunity of celebrating the visit of H.R.H. Prince Arthur of Connaught to the city.

By Order,
CHARLES MAY, Mayor.

Yesterday at the Legislature

Yesterday was a quiet day in the House. The time of the members was taken up almost exclusively in advancing the "Act respecting the Treasury Department" and the "Act respecting the Department of Public Works."

Quite an animated debate came up on the clause 39 and its various sub-sections in the Public Works act, which read as follows:

39. The minister shall consider such claim for increased compensation and shall notify the claimant of his decision in respect thereto by registered letter addressed to the claimant's last known place of abode.

(2) Such claimant if dissatisfied with the decision of the minister may within sixty days after being notified as aforesaid of the decision of the minister give notice in writing to the minister which may be by registered letter that he will submit the claim to arbitration and the said claim shall thereupon be submitted to arbitration and such arbitration shall be by two arbitrators under the provision of the arbitration ordinance of the North West Territories.

(3) If the claimant does not so notify the minister and make the deposit as in the next following sub-section required within the said period of sixty days from the registration of the notice mentioned in the first sub-section he shall be deemed to have accepted the minister's decision and shall not thereafter be at liberty to question it.

(4) The claimant shall with the notice of submission to arbitration deposit with the minister as security for the costs of the arbitration a sum equal to ten per cent. of the amount claimed by him but not in any event less than $25.

(5) All costs and expenses of arbitrators shall be paid by the claimant unless the arbitrators shall award him a sum at least ten per cent. greater than the amount fixed by the minister by his final decision and the minister shall be entitled to deduct his costs and expenses of the arbitration out of the moneys deposited by the claimant and the surplus, if any shall be returned to the claimant.

(6) In the event of the claimant not being required to pay the minister's costs of the arbitration the full amount deposited by him shall be returned to him.

(7) The only costs allowable upon any arbitration under this section shall be arbitrators and witness fees.

(8) In estimating the amount to which the claimant is entitled the arbitrators shall consider, and find separately as to, the value of the land taken and of all improvements thereon the damage to the claimant and the original cost only of any extra fencing that may be necessary by reason of the taking of the land and if the value of the remaining property of the claimant is increased by reason of the construction of the public work through his property the increase of value shall be reduced from the amount so estimated and found and the balance, if any, shall be the amount awarded to the claimant.

The bill has been up before the House once already and was referred back on the previous occasion namely on account of the provision of section 39.

Mr. Cushing, to whose department the bill is intended to apply, brought the bill back into the House with these clauses unaltered. He said that it would be found that if this 10 per cent deposit were not required that the work of the department would be hampered. He thought that if the 10 per cent deposit were not required that the department would require to settle practically all claims by arbitration. He had conferred with members of the Government and they agreed with him, he said, that the clause should remain. He did not think that there were any great number of grievances on account of the clause.

Mr. Robertson thought that the clause worked a great injustice to the small land holder. He believed it worked very much like a game of bluff on the part of the Government, calculated to keep land holders whose land was expropriated out of court.

Mr. Cushing said that he did not think that the member for High River had had a very large experience in such matters. It was not the intention of the Government to keep any parties with legitimate cases out of court. The Government always tried to give the land owners whose property was expropriated the full price of their land at the time it was expropriated, and usually a little more.

John T. Moore said that there was an important principle involved; that the cash deposit might have the effect of keeping poor men whose title was good out of court.

Mr. Cushing said that there were over 100 cases in the courts now claiming extra indemnity for the land expropriated by the Government for road allowances. There must be some provision made to protect the Government against a flood of legislation. He proposed, if it met the desires of the House, that as a guarantee of costs.

Mr. Cross said that he was opposed to the principle but he found that the act was justified at the present time by the peculiar conditions of the country. He did not think that this condition would last and that within a few years such acts would not be necessary. Mr. Cross said he was partial to the suggestion of Hon. Mr. Cushing that bonds be substituted for cash.

John T. Moore suggested that the property owner might have his option, of putting up either cash or bonds.

In coincidence with the suggestion, Mr. Cushing suggested that the clause be made to read that the party wishing to submit his claim to arbitration should put up 10 per cent. cash or 20 per cent. bonds. With this suggestion clauses 4 and 5 were stood over.

John T. Moore objected to clause 7 of section 39 which provided that only costs for witnesses and arbitrators should be allowed. He contended that there were other legitimate costs that might be incurred. He said he was not prepared at the moment to state what these costs might be, but it might be possible to penalize a man making a claim on the Government. One cost that might be involved was the expense of preparing plans and profits.

Mr. Cushing said that the plans were always prepared by the department. He suggested that possibly Mr. Moore meant solicitors fees.

Mr. Heibert asked for a vote on the matter.

Mr. Moore repeated that the party desiring to submit his claim to arbitration should be protected for costs if

NEWSY ITEMS FROM STRATHCONA

The Bulletin's Daily Budget From the Sister Town

Strathcona, April 3.—Mr. J. T. Moore, M. P. P., Red Deer came in from the south on the C. and E. this afternoon. Dr. F. W. Craig, the Conservative candidate for the Commons at the approaching federal election, went south on the 4 p.m. train.

Mr. McDonald, a large land owner of Olds, Alta., and brother of the Rev. Dr. McDonald, was a south bound passenger on the 4 p.m. train.

Mr. Hunter has just come in from Guelph, Ont., with a carload of effects.

O There was a meeting here in the town hall last night to organize a football club.

The executive of the Alberta Farmers' Association held a meeting in the town hall here this afternoon.

Mr. Thomas has come from St. John, N. B., to make his home here.

The L. O. O. F. held a very successful meeting in their lodge rooms, Douglas block, last night. Initiation of new members formed a pleasant part of the programme.

Mr. Chas. Baker is now bookkeeper at the Royal Hotel, which is again under Mr. J. J. Mellow's management. Work has been commenced on the Strathcona Hotel. Workmen are excavating under the foundation, that they may be able to raise up the whole structure. We understand the building will be thoroughly renovated and made up to date in every particular. There will be about 20 extra bedrooms added. This will give a much greater accommodation to the travelling public, and will supply a long felt want. The work has to be completed by June 15. Messrs. Phassey and Balgon are the contractors.

Alberta's Oil Fields

Oil City, Alta., Mar. 30.—Oil of the highest quality ever discovered is now flowing from the earth in huge gushers in the southwestern part of this province. The new oil fields are situated in the extreme southwestern sections of Alberta within five miles of the international boundary, and some forty-five miles southwest of Pincher Creek. The valley in which these oil discoveries lie is described by geologists as an enormous crevice caused by volcanic eruption crisscrossing the formation of the Rocky Mountains and forming a high basin, or vacuum, into which the oil has been seeping for centuries from the coal deposits in the north, forming a great oil reservoir at a depth of about a thousand feet. The country is mountainous, and in most cases the valleys are narrow and heavily timbered; on the mountain side the formation is exposed showing a gently folded strata, or anticline, which can be traced for miles. Where a break in the formation occurs, a seepage can invariably be found. A large number of these seepages exist where oil can be dipped up, and all along the crevice oil indications are plentiful.

The great wealth surrounding this prosperous little town has attracted great attention and already the P. H. and C. R. R. are contemplating surveys to commence the construction of a line to this town in a few weeks, and it is expected trains will be running here within two or three months at the latest. Before a year has passed the population in Oil City will number ten thousand, and many thousands of barrels of oil will be shipped daily, but at the present time this is impossible on account of transportation facilities, although several million gallons of oil are stored here awaiting shipment.

Another instance of the great wealth of this oilfield is the fact that W. S. Darrow, of Chicago, a representative of the Standard Oil Company, has spent several weeks in this portion of Alberta looking over the prospects, and has admitted before returning to Chicago that the oil prospects of Alberta could not be better. In fact he described them as being phenomenal.

The effect of the great discovery of oil will revolutionize the industries of Canada, and will cut the present price of oil completely in two. The Canadian Government allows a bounty of 1-1/2 cents on each gallon of oil produced in Canada, and added to that the Alberta oil is of such a quality that it can be refined for from 45 to 50 cents per barrel cheaper than any other mineral oil known to exist.

The Sugar Beet Outlook

(Cardston Star)

It is stated at Raymond that up to date there have been about 2,000 acres contracted to be sown to beets in Southern Alberta, but it is confidently expected that this year's total will reach 4,000 acres. As a rule each contractor this year is preparing to increase his area. The company itself will put in only irrigable land unless the season should be wet, in which case the non-irrigable lands will also be sown to beets.

The price of sugar recently advanced 10 cents per hundred pounds. The raise in price has been general all over the world. The factory at Raymond shipped nine cars recently to various points, three more being asked for at the same price but the order was not filled.

President Ellis stated that the tariff on raw cane sugar in the United States is a subject of hot contention before the congressional tariff committee, and prices on sugar factory stocks are at present trembling between rise and fall. Should the tariff be removed factories would suffer and refiners would fatten on the enormous advance in profits to them. A new factor appears in the sugar controversy in shape of a gigantic organization which controls 85 per cent of the same product obtained from the Philippine and Hawaiian Islands, and which is waging a bitter war on the U.S. sugar trust.

It is understood that the Raymond sugar factory management is about to ask the Dominion Government for assistance in the shape of a bounty on best sugar produced in Canada.

THROWN FROM RIG AND KILLED

Joseph Pare, a Strathcona Business Man, Meets with Fatal Accident Monday Evening

Joseph Pare, of the firm of Pare & Co., liquor dealers, Strathcona, was thrown out of his rig and killed while driving home from his store on Monday evening. Pare, who lived in the west end of the town, left his store and started to drive home about half past eight. Just how the accident happened is not certain, but it is thought that while driving through the bush near his home the buggy struck a stump and Mr. Pare was thrown out. His head struck the wheel with considerable force, and his neck was broken by the fall. He was discovered lying on the road a few minutes afterwards by his brother. He was able to speak when found, but died before medical assistance arrived. Dr. Crang, coroner, was notified, but considered an inquest unnecessary as death was apparently the result of an accident. Pare was about thirty years of age and leaves a wife and three children to mourn his untimely death. With his two brothers he conducted a wine and spirit store, and was well known in Strathcona and Edmonton. The funeral will take place Thursday at 10 a. m. to St. Anthony's church, thence to the R. C. cemetery.

ALBERTA HAS AN APPLE GROWER

The following, clipped from the Weekly Sun, Toronto, are the remarks made by Dr. Clendennan, of Edmonton, Provincial Health Inspector, at a conference of fruit growers in Ottawa last week:

A. E. Clendennan of Edmonton rather startled the delegates by stating that apple trees are bearing good fruit in the neighborhood of the city in which he lives. "In a few years," he continued, "Ontario will not be able to sell even her No. 1 apples in the West, because we in central and northern Alberta will be producing enough apples to supply not only our own province but Saskatchewan and Manitoba as well. Even today strawberries, raspberries and currants grow wild in our province, and have almost equal quality with your cultivated varieties." Mr. Clendennan, who has been even further north than Edmonton, surprised the delegates again by saying he had seen 70 bushes of cats to the acre produced in the vicinity of Dawson City, and that the finest vegetables grown in Alberta are raised 300 miles north of Edmonton.

Rousing Meeting at Content

On Monday evening the acquaintance at Content in the east part of the Red Deer constituency was fitted with an audience gathered in a few hours to hear John T. Moore, M.P.P., in the interests of Dr. McIntyre, the Liberal candidate for the House of Commons. Judging from the splendid reception given to Mr. Moore and the hearty response to his appeals for support of Dr. McIntyre, the Liberal cause will almost make a clean sweep in this district. In the short space until election day, Thursday, only a portion of the people can be notified of the election taking place, so the election will be small, but as far as record it will be largely in favor of Dr. McIntyre. The chair was occupied by V. H. Tait, esq., the leading merchant, and for nearly two hours Mr. Moore dealt with public questions in a manner that delighted his audience, judging from the frequent and hearty applause that his remarks called forth. With a cordial vote of thanks to Mr. Moore and cheers for the king and the candidate the most successful meeting was brought to a close.

Crop Comparisons

A comparison of the crop bulletins which were recently issued by the Department of Agriculture in Alberta and Saskatchewan showing the crop yield of 1905, shows that the average yield per acre of the various grains for the past eight years in Alberta is greater than in the sister province. In spring wheat the average yield in Alberta was 20.62, in Saskatchewan 19.88. Oats, average yield in Alberta was 25.67 and in Saskatchewan 24.98. Barley, average yield in Alberta 26.54, in Saskatchewan 24.45. Only in Speltz does the average in Alberta fall below that of Saskatchewan. The average in Alberta was 23.60, and in Saskatchewan 23.10. The total crop area for 1905 in Alberta was 415,717 acres, and in Saskatchewan 1,639,583 acres. The total yield in bushels in Saskatchewan of wheat and oats far exceeds that in Alberta, but the yield of barley in Alberta was 1,773,914, as against 233,396 bushels in Saskatchewan. An meat of the barley produced is used for feed purposes, this would show that there have been more cattle, hogs and horses raised in Alberta than in Saskatchewan, which is the case. There is also a greater production of butter in Alberta than in Saskatchewan.

Bluestone and Formalin.

Bulletin No. 115 from the Inland Revenue Department contains a report of an analysis of bluestone and formalin which should be of interest to western farmers. The report says:

Ottawa, March 6, 1906.
 W. J. Gerald, Esq.,
 Deputy Minister of Inland Revenue.
 Sir,—I beg to submit the following report on the inspection of samples of bluestone and formalin, the collections of which were authorized in your letter of January 5th and February 23rd last.

In correspondence with the Department concerning bluestone the necessity of this inspection was urged by the Manitoba Grain Growers Association on the ground that a very large proportion of the wheat crop of 1905 had been damaged by smut in districts where great care had been taken to properly treat the seed with solution of sulphate of copper previous to sowing. The request was forwarded through the Department of Agriculture, and similar representations from private parties were received through the Deputy Minister of Trade and Commerce. A later communication dated February 13, was received by the branch from Mr. C. A. Clark, Seed Commissioner of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, in which the necessity was explained for having the results of the inspection published among the farmers of the North West at the earliest possible date and mentioning formalin as another germicide requiring the attention of the Department.

Accompanying this report you will find, in table I, all the information we possess regarding the origin of 2 samples of bluestone, obtained for the most part in the North West. The collection was ordered for a much larger number in the province of Manitoba, but the inspector was unable to obtain more, without duplicating brands of the same origin. The table also contains the result of testing these samples, which work was performed by Mr. A. Valin. Pure bluestone consists simply of one molecule of cupric sulphate and five of water of crystallization. Its percentage composition is as follows: Cupric Oxide.....31.86 per cent Sulphuric Anhydride.....32.06 per cent Water of Crystallization.....36.08 per cent

It ought therefore to contain at least 30 per cent of cupric oxide, and be free from iron oxide and alumina. It is defined in the British Pharmacopoeia, which exacts that it should yield "no characteristic reaction with the test for lead, arsenium, stink or aluminum, and no more than the slightest reaction with the test for iron." From the table it will be seen that some of the samples contain as much as 34.7 per cent of cupric oxide, which high percentage is probably owing to some of the water of crystallization. Six out of the 23 samples contain less than 40 per cent of cupric oxide and the lowest shows 28.62. In only one case does the quantity of alumina and ferric oxide 1.0 per cent and this I have marked as "adulterated." The result of the inspection is therefore in percentage as follows:—
 Genuine.....73.9 per cent.
 Of inferior quality.....21.7 per cent.
 Adulterated.....4.4 per cent.

Under the circumstances, the opinion which seems now to exist in the North West to the effect that the prevalence of smut in the crop last year was owing to the inferior quality of the bluestone sold to the farmers, does not appear to be well founded.

Table II, also attached to this report gives the result of inspecting formalin. This article is not mentioned in the British Pharmacopoeia, but in Merck's Index it is defined as a 40 per cent solution of Formaldehyde. According to Leach the common preservatives on the market known as "Preservative," "Formalin," "Formol," are produced from diluting the 40 per cent solution known as formalin, which has therefore a recognized strength. The ten samples described in the table, although bought from different vendors, represent for the most part, the article manufactured by the Perth Amboy Chemical Co., of Perth Amboy, New Jersey. These vary according to the assays of Mr. A. Valin, in the quantities they contain of formaldehyde, from 37 to 39.4 per cent, and in the absence of any standard "limits of variability" cannot very well be characterized otherwise than as "genuine." One sample has been found to contain only 25.6 per cent and is considered to be adulterated.

I have the honor to be, Sir,
 Your obedient servant,
 THOMAS MACFARLANE,
 Chief Analyst.

A Swing This Summer.

The Edmonton Football Club held their first practice last evening on the grounds opposite the Richelieu Hotel. Nearly thirty of the boys turned out, and to judge by the enthusiasm displayed the game will go forward with a swing this summer.

An hour and a half of hard practice was sufficient to show that there was material for a great team in the bunch that followed the sphere around last night. The next practice will be held on Thursday evening at 6.30 sharp on the same grounds, and it is expected that an even larger number will be on hand. Arrangements are being made with the For. Saskatchewan eleven for a game on Good Friday, to be played at the Fort.

A LOST APOSTLE

Time was when Hon. George Eulas Foster, M. P., was the apostle of cold water to the thirsty natives of Ontario. He was a strenuous apostle, and where the little red schoolhouse at the cross roads or the log-cabin-begotten village hall which has not reached the gushing geyser in which he described the beauty and typified the consistency of nature's beverage? With him it was literally "water water everywhere" alike for external ablation and internal satisfaction. For the theatrical substitutes which men devised he had no use save as they provided horrible object lessons to throw into stronger relief the harmless nature of water and the beneficial consequences of its exclusive use. As a water advocate he was a howling success, and from painting the horrors which lurked in the reddened cup he turned to the ecology of water in streams of limpid language which purled and prattled like the brooks in May. In time his reward came and he floated into prominence on the crest of an aqueous popularity. But fluids were ever unstable, and the popular taste variable. The tide receded and left the disfigurement of the elements stranded in North York till a cross current caught him and tossed him into the house again.

Now once again he rises to address a few remarks to his fellow countrymen on the subject of water, but they are not words of praise. The miners in the Klondike, suffering last year from lack of water with which to work their claims, engaged a Californian named Hatfield to avoid a recurrence of the drought during the coming summer by producing rain by gas explosions in the higher atmosphere, or some such artificial means. If he succeeds he is to get $10,000, if not he gets his board. To this arrangement the Yukon council was persuaded to agree and contribute one half the expense. Such a plan to produce water might have been supposed to find favor with the late champion of the cause of water. But not so. The wrath of his inmost soul is stirred at the thought and the stream of his eloquence is diverted from the laudation of water to the condemnation of the plan for securing it. He assails the plan not because he thinks it likely to fail, but because Hatfield was successful beyond expectations in California. There Mr. Foster tells us that the rain-maker "interfered with the mechanism of the universe and the rain came down in torrents and Hatfield was cursed from San Francisco to the confines of the state." That is the trouble. The question of the water supply of the Yukon miners does not concern Mr. Foster. What troubles him is that the supply may be too copious and the miners may be led to swear in consequence, which indicates that with an abhorrence of water the gentleman has a very mistaken notion of the Yukon miners. From the reports which have emanated from the northern camp it is exceedingly improbable that an increase of profanity could be occasioned there by any ordinary conjuncture and that of all conceivable causes an over supply of moisture is about the most unlikely. However that may be the Honorable George makes war upon the scheme because it is likely to succeed, and thus bears eloquent testimony to the veracity of feeling he has undergone for the liquid which once he loved, and which bore him into prominence.

TALKING—BUT NOT TO THE POINT

The noise of battle and the clash of arms has wakened even the Lethbridge News and induced in that usually so-called journal an inclination to sit up and take an interest in proceedings. In this new trend strenuously (the News finds great cause for offence in a few general observations which the Bulletin presumed to offer on the by-election now pending in Lethbridge. Extracts from the Bulletin article are quoted and misquoted, and misinterpreted in a manner only possible by violent perversion of plain language and utter disregard of context and this imaginary grievance in turn made the basis for remarks as irrelevant as exaggerated—which is saying considerable. What the News very wisely does not try to disprove however is, the contention of the Bulletin—that the provincial government deserves credit for bringing the by-election without unnecessary delay and that the verdict of that by-election will be construed as the opinion of the electors of Lethbridge on a Government record which has been above criticism and as the approval or disapproval of those electors of the inauguration of the progressive policy proposed by the Government and endorsed by the province at large.

THANKS

A correspondent writes the Bulletin from one of the rapidly developing districts along the C. N. R. as follows: "The Bulletin is the most welcome paper that comes here. "Since it has been enlarged and donned its new dress it is the neatest and by far the ablest conducted paper west of Winnipeg. It has always taken a firm stand in defence of the farmers' interests and deserves their hearty support."

A Defensive Militia, Not a Standing Army

Ottawa Citizen: Sir Frederick Borden said that parliament, without distinction of party, had supported him in every effort he had made with regard to the militia. There was no party government as far as the militia was concerned, and he thanked particularly the members of the opposition, who had, if anything, been rather insistent at his going further than was usually proposed. The minister was sure that all from one end of the country to the other would approve of the sentiment of His Excellency that it was the duty of every young man to fit himself for the defence of his country. People who, in face of small militia expenditure, talked about militarism, did not know what they were talking about, and proved that they had not taken the trouble to study the question. "Canada did not want an armed camp or to disband a military force in the eyes of other nations, but to make such preparation as any self-respecting nation should for defence and not for aggression. The railways are only showing due respect to the militia of this country when they encourage good rifle shooting in the manner asked. No interests are under more obligation to this country for the military preparations made than are the railway companies. The first blow that would be struck would be at the railways and they are only doing their duty."

License Inspector Gets in His Work

While everything seems to be going smoothly the newly appointed license inspectors have been at work gathering data, information, etc., and watching the movements of the "suspected" traffickers. The peace and serenity of their illicit transactions was rudely shattered last Thursday night when the inspector, with Constables Woolf and Macleod entered the blacksmith shop of Karl Danielson and there discovered nine bottles of the choicest Scotch whisky. Three empty straw jackets showed that the case had been broken into although the whisky is alleged to have only resided in the blacksmith shop for a couple of hours. Mr. Danielson was brought before Magistrate Irwin, charged with keeping liquor for the purpose of sale, barter and traffic therein without the license therefore by law required. The defendant entered a plea of not guilty and the hearing was adjourned from Saturday until Monday to give the defendant a chance to procure counsel. Mr. Irwin, of Lethbridge, was engaged for that purpose, and he arrived on Monday. The hearing resumed by witnesses for the prosecution. The counsel for the defence gave notice that they would put no evidence in rebuttal but that they intended to appeal if a conviction should be given. The magistrate convicted in the sum of $50 and costs and in default of payment forthwith two months in the guard room at Macleod. Mr. Irwin gave notice of appeal and the bonds, affidavits, etc. were arranged to the satisfaction of the magistrate. The witnesses called by the prosecution were Messrs. W. O. Lee, License Inspector, Martin Woolf, Town Constable and Jas. W. Boulton, R. R. agent.

Baseball Prospects

(Calgary Albertan)

The Edmonton Bulletin announces that the Edmonton ball team will be as strong this year as it was last year, and will probably be better organized from a financial standpoint.

The Westsiding baseball team will be as strong this year as last, although Charlie Benjamin, the manager and life of the team, is in Calgary, and will be a great loss to them.

A Strathcona team will be in the running this year, which will make a compact force in the north, and it is expected that teams will be found in Vegreville and Vermilion, two promising towns on the C. N. R. line.

Calgary is always slow in getting going. Though baseball has been started here, and is likely to go as well or better than last year, nothing has been done yet. A good team can be formed. Last year there were about fifty players who at various times figured upon the team. More than half that number are in the city, ready to play the game.

The Young Men's Club have decided to play among themselves. The Victorias have already organized and will be strong this year. The Eagles it is expected, will have a strong force in the senior class.

Medicine Hat, it is said, will have a strong ball team, and Lethbridge is anxious to get out into faster company than last year. It is more than probable that Canmore will be in the race with a good team. With Lethbridge, Medicine Hat, Canmore and Calgary, the ball game will be interesting in the south.

IN FEDERAL HOUSE

(Hansard, Mar. 12.)

Hon. FRANK OLIVER (Minister of the Interior). I do not wish to delay the House, but in view of the very definite charges made by the hon. gentleman who has just spoken, it would hardly be seemly for me, as the minister responsible for the Interior Department, to allow these charges to pass unchallenged; and while dealing with them, I may refer incidentally to some of the other matters which have been brought into this discussion without it seems to me, the slightest necessity or excuse, I am certainly at a loss to know in what degree the question of Imperial preference is concerned in the reply to the speech from the Throne and am equally unable to understand why the results in the Saskatchewan provincial election should require to be dealt with on the same occasion.

Mr. R. L. BORDEN. They were introduced by the mover of the address.

Mr. OLIVER. But as my hon. friend from Qu'Appelle (Mr. Laker) has seen fit to say that the officials of the Interior Department made use of their position to intimidate electors in the recent provincial elections in Alberta and Saskatchewan, I have this to say in reply. I must admit that I was guilty of the crime of being present in Alberta and Saskatchewan during those elections and I did hear the allegations made there which the hon. gentleman has repeated here. My reply to that allegation, whenever I heard it, was this, that if it could be shown to me that any official of the department over which I have control had used his position to intimidate electors or hold out improper inducements to any elector, I would see that he was instantly dismissed. I asked for proof on that point, and the first atom of proof has never yet been offered or suggested. My hon. friend has said that some land agent of the Government sent word to some voter that if he wanted to secure his patent he had better cease his activity. If my hon. friend will make good that allegation, I will guarantee him that the agent in question will forthwith cease to serve his country. And if the hon. gentleman does not make his charge good, I shall certainly expect him to apologize to this House for having made it. With regard to the so-called activity of the officials of the Interior Department, these hon. gentlemen have been good enough to suggest that the victory of the Scott Government in the province of Saskatchewan was due in a very large measure to that activity. Well, there were two provincial elections in the west last fall—one in Alberta and one in Saskatchewan. In these hon. gentlemen suggest that the victory of the Rutherford government in Alberta was due to the activity of the Interior Department officials in that province? If they do, they must give these officials credit for a very large amount of influence over the electors. But if they are not to be credited with the victory in Alberta, I submit that neither are they entitled to be credited with the victory in Saskatchewan. The two provinces lie alongside each other and in each the conditions are similar. The officials of the Interior Department have just as much influence in the one as in the other, and it is not reasonable to suggest that the elections were won in one province by these officials and not in the other.

The gentlemen opposite have rather peculiar ideas of election, it seems to me. Their idea of a proper election is one in which the other party shall be eliminated and they shall have the privilege of casting all the votes. It would appear from what they say that it is an offence for a citizen of the North-west to exercise the franchise to express an opinion, or even to hold an opinion; and it is still more a crime on the part of an elector of the North-west in the person of my humble self to go there and take part in an election. I do not agree with these gentlemen. And I wish to say further that I think it is a very serious question just how far a government has a right, by virtue of its authority, to trespass upon the rights of the citizen in the exercise of his franchise. I had occasion to express my views on that point, and I did express them, in the North-west. The leader of the Opposition (Mr. R. L. Borden) did me the honor to partially quote my expressions. I will take the liberty of stating to the House what I said. I said that officials of the government were citizens, therefore they had the right to vote. I said that, having intelligence—supposedly having intelligence—they had the right to choose on which side they should vote. And I said that having the power of speech they had the right to express their opinions. But the question of improper interference is not to be settled in a general way; each case must rest upon its own basis. To say that a man may be driven from the public service because he has a vote, because he has an opinion and expresses that opinion—it seems to me that it is a most unwarrantable and most unjustifiable trespass upon the rights of citizenship. Especially is that the case when the political question at issue is not one in which the Government having control of these officials is directly concerned. There may be a reason—there might be a reason—for a Government exercising an arbitrary and otherwise unjustifiable authority over its officials in the case of an election in which it was concerned. But to say that they must practically disfranchise or de-citizenize their employees in regard to all questions concerning the public, provincial, municipal or otherwise, is, it seems to me, unreasonable, improper and absurd; and if hon. gentlemen opposite wish to take that position, I can only say that they are welcome to it and that I take issue with them on it.

As to the Prince Albert election case which has been mentioned, I have many arguments in the newspapers holding the right hon. Prime Minister of this Dominion (Sir Wilfrid Laurier) directly responsible for this outrage. The argument is this: the Prime Minister was responsible for the organization of the province involved the appointment of a provincial premier—elections had to be held and returning officers appointed by the provincial government of which the Prime Minister was the head;—and therefore in the last analysis the Prime Minister of Canada was responsible for the stuffing of the ballot boxes in Prince Albert. It has been alleged that those concerned in this outrage were employees of the Department of the Interior. So far as I was able to learn from enquiry, I find that one of these men had been in the employ of the department as a fire ranger; that is, he was subject to be called upon to work for the department during the season in looking after forest fires. He was not in the employ of the department at the time the alleged outrage took place. Another man, Sutcliffe, had recently been appointed Indian farm instructor, and was technically in the employ of the department. The third person concerned was not an employee of this government, and so far as I know, never had been. The leader of the Opposition (Mr. R. Borden) has suggested that it was highly improper and an evidence of partisanship that gentlemen who hold a position under the government should accept the position of poll clerk or returning officer if an election took place. I take issue on that point. I do not see that the acceptance by an individual of an appointment to act as returning officer or poll clerk is evidence of partisanship. Every man knows that the returning officer, the deputy returning officer and the poll clerk are supposed, at any rate, and so far as oath of office can bind any man they are bound—to act impartially. Now, it is not to be known that in the outlying districts it is not always easy to secure the services of men who are competent to hold a poll. Therefore, there is nothing unusual, able or improper in the department, under the circumstances, permitting one of its officials to act as such official. However, these men acted as they did. They were supposed to have held this poll; they did not hold it; they were discovered in their doing and were brought before a court and punished as the law provides. They were brought before a magistrate's court and brought there on the instance of the aggrieved candidate. The court was of his own choosing and the punishment was awarded by that court. It was not the maximum punishment permitted by the law. I fall to see where in the Department of the Interior or the Interior Department is in any way responsible for the action or inaction of that court. My honorable friend looked at me across the floor, and asked in horror-stricken tones if these men were still at large. I presume they are. I hope my honorable friend does not suggest that, in addition to the punishment already inflicted upon his poor shoulders, I should act as constable at the far distant point of Prince Albert and restrain the liberty of those who may have trespassed upon what we may consider the rights of others.

If these men are at large I presume they have a right to be at large, and if they have not a right to be at large, then the processes of law are open to my honorable friend and to his friends to take measures to restrain their liberty. As regards the gentlemen who were in the employ of the Interior Department, certainly I consider that having done as he did and said as he said, he is entitled to remain in that employ, and he was (as I said). That, I consider, was the limit of the responsibility of that department in the matter. However, I would like to point out one peculiar thing in this connection. As I said, there were three men who went north with these ballot boxes, and three men who came back, but only two were fined. The third man was the one responsible, so far as I can learn, for proposing to hold the polls in that region; he was the man supposed to know the locality, who stated there were so many people there entitled to vote, and he was the guide of this party who were to go up and take these votes. This gentleman was not an official of the Interior Department. It would almost strike one as somewhat peculiar that, when there were three men equally guilty, two of them should be fined, and the third should be left at large and still unpunished? Does that look like fair-play on the part of the aggrieved candidate and his friends? Does that look like a somewhat like a prosecution of the posted officials of the Government while the gentleman who was not an official may trespass upon the law as he pleases, and there is nobody to call him to account?

Mr. R. L. BORDEN. Does the honorable gentleman say that a warrant was not issued for him?

Mr. OLIVER. I am quite certain there was no warrant.

Mr. R. L. BORDEN. I have seen it stated in the papers that he was not arrested because he could not be found.

Mr. OLIVER. Then I am sorry to say that the press which my honorable friend has studied is not altogether reliable. The gentleman in question is an old resident of that part of the country, there is no difficulty in finding him. His name is Moberly, and he is to be seen from time to time on the streets of Prince Albert. He says there is no danger of his being arrested because he has been concerned in similar business for the Opposition party on previous occasions, and they dare not arrest him. There is no better known man in that country than Mr. Moberly, he has left his name all over the country.

Mr. R. L. BORDEN. What were the previous occasions in which he was concerned?

Mr. OLIVER. I am not a resident of that part of the country, and cannot tell the honorable gentleman what were the previous occasions. I am merely stating what I am told Mr. Moberly said, and which I verily believe to be true.

Mr. Borden. Since the machinery of justice was in Liberal hands, why did it not take charge of a man like that?

Mr. OLIVER. The machinery of justice in that part of the country will have to answer for itself. I am answering for myself and for the department which I administer, and which has been accused here of certain crimes and misdemeanours. I do not answer for the provincial administration of justice. I know nothing about the law in that matter. I do not know how far these people are subject to the law. But I assume that the machinery of justice in the province of Saskatchewan is subject to be put in motion by any person who may feel himself aggrieved, and that if these gentlemen feel themselves aggrieved it is for them to put this machinery in motion and secure justice.

Mr. BARKER. What about the Government?

Mr. OLIVER. I do not know that the responsibility rests upon the Government of that province any more than it does upon the aggrieved individual. However, that is a matter for lawyers to settle. I am not a lawyer, and therefore cannot give the honorable gentleman an authoritative opinion on that point. I repeat however, that if there is a man in that district of Prince Albert who feels himself aggrieved, it is his privilege as it is their right and duty to set that machinery in motion.

Mr. OLIVER. There is another point that our friends opposite have dealt with very exhaustively, and that is the action of the Lieutenant-Governor of Saskatchewan in failing to call upon Mr. Haultain to form the government of that province. It seems that is an outrage, an imposition, for which the right honorable leader of this House is responsible. I am not very familiar with affairs in Saskatchewan, but I would like to remind the House that if Mr. Haultain had claims on the premiership of either of the two provinces, it was upon the premiership of Alberta and not upon that of Saskatchewan. Mr. Haultain had been a resident of Alberta ever since he went to the west. He had represented an Alberta constituency during all that period of his public life, and it seems to me that if Mr. Haultain had a claim to the premiership of any province it was to that of Alberta, and if he was turned down he was turned down by one of the most effectively turned down by the electors of the province of Saskatchewan to which court he made his appeal.

Now, something has been said about stealing elections. I desire to say that Mr. Haultain and his friends by the issues which they undertook to raise in the province of Saskatchewan, took a more discreditable means to steal the election than the men who stuffed that ballot box north of Prince Albert. I wish to call attention to the attitude taken by my honorable friend who has just sat down as illustrating the position generally taken by our friends on the other side, and indicating one reason why the elections turned out as they did. Mr. honorable friend has credited the foreign vote with electing the Scott Government. Now, Sir, will you tell me in the name of common sense how would the foreign vote be expected to elect an except against the people who were continually vilifying them, continually declaring that they were not entitled to their rights as citizens of the country? The honorable gentleman suggests that a racial and religious question was projected into that campaign by a memorandum issued by the Archbishop of St. Boniface, the tendency of which was to secure a solid Roman Catholic vote. Those of us who had the fortune, somewhat numerous, to be present at the election in Saskatchewan will agree that a Roman Catholic would be less than a man or more than an angel to vote in support of the men and the party who were abusing him and his church as they were being abused there.

At the above place you may sell almost everything you may have to dispose of. You may obtain spot cash or leave your property for sale on commission, or obtain an immediate loan to tide you over that little embarrassment. It matters not what the property consists of, whether household effects, farm implements, gold, silver plate, china, pictures, books, furs, bugles, wagons, harness, curios, sewing machines, musical instruments, guns, revolvers, silks or jewellery. If the article possesses a value and you wish to sell, ask the Exchange Mart its value. Whether they buy or not they will tell you. If you are leaving the city you may sell at a few hours' notice the entire outfit for spot cash, or the Mart will sell your effects by auction on your own premises.

he is found in the right, and that to let the fees were legitimate expenses in this respect. He moved that the clause be held over for further consideration.

Mr. Cross spoke again, saying that he thought the member for Red Deer was under the same impression as he had been himself, but believed that if he would look into the matter further he would find that there was warrant for the Government incorporating such a provision in the bill.

The vote was taken on further consideration of section 7 and Helbert, Robertson and Moore voted in favor, all the other members voting for the adoption of the clause.

The bill was proceeded with without further debate and is now complete except for clauses 3 and 4, referred back as stated above. It will probably come up again this afternoon.

The "Treasury Department" bill will also, in all probability be completed probably be completed this afternoon.

Petition: Hon. W. T. Finlay presented a petition from certain property owners of the city of Medicine Hat praying that certain property be not included in the incorporate limits of the city, as sought by the bill of incorporation now before the House.

C. A. Stuart, acting as chairman of the committee on Standing Orders, in place of A. S. Rosenroll, who was absent, reported on the petition of the town of Prince Albert, asking privilege to raise $10,000 by law, and the petition of the Western Oil and Coal Co. Consolidated, asking for incorporation.

Mr. Heston asked for a return giving "Each polling sub-division in each provincial constituency throughout the Province of Alberta, the name and address of each returning officer, the names and addresses of each deputy returning officer, polling clerk, constable, and the names of the scrutineers and agents of each and all candidates also."

"The number of spoiled, rejected and disputed ballots at the election held in the said province of Alberta on the 9th day of November, 1905, or on any days subsequent thereto."

J. R. Boyle gave notice that on Thursday he would introduce a bill to regulate the speed and running of automobiles.

Attorney General Cross asked for the second reading of the Act to amend the Edmonton charter, which was assigned to and the bill referred to the committee on municipal law.

At the suggestion of W. F. Finlay, the speaker ordered the chairman of committees to post notice of the meeting of their respective committees in the House.

J. R. Boyle, for the member for Pincher Creek, introduced a bill to incorporate the Western Oil & Coal Consolidated Company, which was read a first time, and the second reading set down for Monday next.

Hon. Mr. Cushing asked that the Act to amend the Ordinance respecting villages be referred back to a committee of the whole house.

THE WEATHER.

The weather has been quite cool, with very strong northwesterly winds throughout Manitoba, in Saskatchewan and Alberta it has become a little warmer.

Fertile Farm Lands Near
Alberta's Capital

Leduc, 20 miles south of Edmonton, on the C. & E. Railway, is noted for its rich agricultural lands, and large production of wheat and oats, of first-class quality. Cattle-raising and dairying are also important industries, and large quantities of butter and eggs are marketed at this point. The country is partly wooded, and there are large coal deposits in the district; also abundance of water at from 12 to 30 feet in depth. There are numerous lakes, one being partly within the town limits. Fish and game are plentiful.

Homestead lands may be obtained at a distance of 30 miles from town. Other lands range from $6 to $40 an acre. The town itself numbers upwards of 450 inhabitants, principally Canadians and Americans, and is now applying for incorporation. Among the business establishments are a chartered bank, 3 grain elevators, 2 grain warehouses, creamery, pork-packing house, flour mill, planing mill, general stores, hardware stores, also hotels, and 5 churches. Telegraph and telephone systems.

Cattle marketed in 1905, 600.
Hogs, 7500.
Coal, 1000 tons.
Butter, 150,000 pounds.

—The Juvenile Bostonians at Robertson's Hall to-night will produce "The Pajama of Pajama."

—The lacrosse boys meet at the Pendennis Hotel to-night for the purpose of organizing for the coming season.

—The members of the baseball club will hold a meeting at the Imperial Hotel on Thursday evening to reorganize for the season.

—The bunting and flags to be used by the Edmonton Tent factory in decorating the rink for the reception of Prince Arthur of Connaught, arrived today from London, England.

—There will be a practice of the cantata, "Olivet to Calvary," on Wednesday evening at 8.30 in All Saints' schoolroom. A full attendance of the members of the choir and those who are assisting is requested.

—Mr. Jos. Langille and bride returned from their honeymoon trip to the coast this week. On their return they were presented with an address and several handsome presents by their Edmonton friends. Mr. and Mrs. Langille will reside on Seventh street west.

—Regina Standard: Homestead entries for the month of March in Regina district, which closed at noon today, reached the unprecedented total of nine hundred and ninety-four. For the month previous, February, the number of entries was 490, as compared with the 231 of the same month, 1905. These figures indicate that not only has the rush started unprecedentedly early, but that it has also assumed proportions that are altogether without parallel in the history of the west.

—Blairmore Times: The selection by the Lehigh Liberals of W. C. Simmons, of that place, to be their standard bearer in the present bye-election is a good choice, not only for the party but also for the country. Mr. Simmons is recognized as one of the coming men of Western Canada, a good business man and a politician who has the interests of the country at heart. He is well known in the Pass, where he campaigned during the last two elections, and his courteous manner and sense of fair play gained him many friends even among his political opponents.

—Christopher and Henry Shukties, the two Gallatin lads from Leduc, who appeared in Supreme Court a couple of months ago, charged with stealing horses from H. Klukas, of Leduc, but were dismissed, and the case was charged with stealing and selling a couple of his animals. One of the lads was arrested at Medicine Hat, and the other at Wetsaskwin. They appeared for their preliminary trial today before Magistrate Rosenroth.

letter was received and filed.

The Matthews Steamship Co. of Toronto, wrote the mayor that they are building a large steamer to ply between Montreal and Fort William which they intended to name the Edmonton, and asking the merchants to route their goods via the Matthews boats. The mayor said it was a very nice advertisement, showing the interest taken in the city at a distance, and Mr. Griebach suggested that a courteous reply should be sent to the Matthews people in appreciation of their action.

A Mr. McCready wrote saying that he was going to establish a peacemaker mill plant in Edmonton and asking that a by-law be passed providing for pure milk. It was left to the city solicitor and the health committee to frame a by-law.

The Braemar Social Circle asked exemption from license fee to permit them to canvas advertisements for a programme for a Scotch concert they are intending to hold, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the public hospital. A resolution was passed directing that the $50 should be charged and rebated after the programme was produced, providing that it proved to be what it claimed.

The Great West Saddlery Co. asked permission to project a wooden stairway 18 inches into the lane back of Jasper. The request was submitted to the commissioners.

The Cricket Club asked for the right to use the exhibition grounds for cricket games. The request was granted, not to be exclusive.

H. R. Montfield wrote warning the city against the danger of a conflagration being started by prairie fires in the west end. The letter was turned over to the commissioners. Mr. Hargreaves explaining that a fire guard had been burned about the city in that quarter.

The letter from Mr. Heathcote which was published in the Bulletin on Monday, refusing remuneration, on behalf of the brigade, for turning out to Saturday's fires, was filed.

Mr. T. Flanagan wrote enclosing receipts of $142 and bills to the extent of $156 in connection with the conversation in the rink on the occasion of the opening. The accounts were ordered paid.

The accounts as approved by the finance committee were presented and ordered paid.

The commissioners reported having wired to J. Gregg Davidson offering the position of chief of the fire brigade at a salary of $100 a month. Mr. Davidson to leave Sherbrooke on April 10. Ald. Griebach asked that the recommendations of J. Gregg Davidson be laid on the table.

Mr. Kinnaird produced the letters shown at the informal meeting on Saturday afternoon and placed them before Ald. Griebach.

Ald. Griebach asked if these were all the recommendations.

Mr. Kinnaird said that these were all the recommendations that had reached him for file. He understood that some of the aldermen had doubtless recommendations, but he had not heard them yet.

Ald. Griebach said that the appointment was being made by the commissioners, not by the council.

He pointed out that there were recommendations by a man whom they did not know, who described him as a warm personal friend of his, and by an employee of the C. P. R. who may or may not know anything about fire fighting.

Ald. Griebach moved that the report of the commissioners regarding the employment of R. Gregg Davidson be not adopted. In making the motion he stated that while the council had directed the commissioners to employ a competent fire chief they had not received any instructions to employ this particular man as chief, and he thought they had acted without due regard to the wishes of the citizens. He had looked at the census returns and had found that the city of Sherbrooke was a place of 11,000 odd, not much bigger than Edmonton, and that although they had two fire halls that was necessitated by the fact that the town site was hilly; the complete equipment of these two halls, however, he found on enquiry to be no greater than the equipment of the Edmonton brigade.

Ald. Griebach supported Mr. Griebach. He said he was present at the now famous secret meeting when the committee of the whole decided to employ an experienced fire chief. While the man whom the commissioners had employed might be, and he hoped he would be, the man they required, he did not see that there was anything before them to show that he was, or to warrant them in taking such hurried action.

Ald. Griebach and Mays voted that the report be not adopted, all the other aldermen endorsing the action of the commissioners in employing J. Gregg Davidson.

The commissioners then submitted a report as follows: "In regard to the fire brigade deadlock, after interviewing Chief Wilson it was agreed to recommend that the new chief be assigned solely to fire brigade work, and such other work as may be hereafter deemed advisable by the commissioners, and that the services of Mr. Wilson be retained as building inspector at $100 a month."

Alderman Griebach moved in amendment to the report "That inasmuch as the fire brigade were citizens and electors of this city, that this council is of the opinion that the commissioners erred in failing to consult with the fire, water and light committee in making the appointment of a chief."

In making the motion Ald. Griebach said that the by-law governing the brigade was still in force, and he was doubtful if the commissioners had power to employ a chief without consulting the P. W. & L. committee. At any rate he proposed to submit that question to the city solicitor when he got an opportunity. He said that the commissioners had apparently succeeded at last by an undignified compromise in straightening out a tangle which was all of their own creation.

Mayor Jax ruled Ald. Griebach's amendment out of order on the grounds that it had no reference to the report of the commissioners.

Ald. Griebach appealed to the council from the decision of the mayor.

Ald. Latta, Smith, Bellamy and Picard supported the mayor. Ald. Griebach and Mays voting against.

The report of the commissioners was adopted.

As the council was about to adjourn Ald. Mays brought up his motion, of which he had given notice three weeks ago, that Mr. Hargreaves be asked to hand in his resignation. He said he wanted to be put on record as having made the motion. There was no second, and the motion went by default.
